Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Monday 22 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cold overnight but staying dry.

This Evening and Tonight:
Feeling cold as temperatures quickly drop off under clear skies and light winds. Turning somewhat cloudier in the north during the early hours, thus the risk of frost and isolated fog patches more prominent across Cheshire and Greater Manchester. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Tuesday:
Becoming increasingly cloudy everywhere through the morning. Staying largely dry, though the cloud thick enough for the odd light shower later. Feeling cool with temperatures around average for November. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Cloudy to start on Wednesday before outbreaks of rain develop later. Turning brighter, breezier, and colder again on Thursday, then the risk of further rain and strong winds on Friday.
